"Time for Change"

Written by Petroleum County Commission

On the evening of Wednesday, January 11, 2023, about 40 people gathered at the courthouse for the discussion of forms of government that are available to Petroleum County. Dan Clark, the director of MSU Government Center gave a thorough discussion on the legal requirements and opportunities of various ways a county can be organized. Clark responded to the various questions from the crowd about how the various options would differ from how Petroleum County currently operates under the County Manager form of government that was adopted by the county in 1942.

The townhall meeting was called by the Commissioners because they are facing another time when the county needs another new County Manager. The Commissioners started looking at changing away from the County Manager form of government and had been meeting with a committee of locals and Dan Clark to explore the issues.

The change as proposed by the commissioner shows that if Petroleum County were to move to a Charter/Commissioner form of government, not many things about the county operations would change. The primary ...

RALPH T. CORBETT

Few details about yourself and your family?

I grew up and went to school in Cascade, Montana.

Education & other skills?

After graduation I joined the Navy for four years. I spent my enlistment aboard the USS Mount Katmai, an ammo cargo ship, making three trips off the coast of South Viet Nam. We transferred all types of ammo, from small arms ammunition to 16" shells for the battleship New Jersey, plus bombs and rockets for planes on aircraft carriers. One of the highlights of my service time was watching the New Jersey fire a broadside salvo of all nine 16" barrels at once. Another highlight was the chance to watch "Puff the Magic Dragon," a specially equipped AC-47, fire a burst from a Gatling-style gun, and watching the red streak start from the plane and go to the ground. One of every five rounds was a tracer.

When I got out of the service, I went to Montana State for three years. During the college era, I worked summers for the U. S. Forest Service, building trails into the Bob Marshall Wilderness area.

Current Job and duties & other job history?

After that I got ranch jobs here in the Winnett area. I first worked for Pete Dobson and then for Ken Welter on the ranch and in the pellet mill. The opportunity came up to apply for a job on the county road crew, and I spent 30 years in that capacity.

I spent some years on the town council and became certified as a water/wastewater operator for the town, because there needs to be a certified person available at all times. I continue be the back-up operator.

Interests, favorite things (food, etc.) and Hobbies?

I love big game hunting and venison is one of my favorite foods. A couple of my hobbies are reloading and copper and aluminum salvaging. Another hobby, photography, turned into more than just a hobby.

What do you like about our little community?

I like Winnett because it is a small community, even though it is the county seat of Petroleum County. Being small, most of the people care about and look out for each other.

Ralph getting a Hunter Education Award

CAROL ANN SCHAEFFER

Few details about yourself and your family?

My maternal grandparents, Lena and “Casey” Fail, homesteaded in the Chippewa area north of Grass Range. The oil boom brought them to Cat Creek in 1921. My paternal grandparents, Lillie and John Schaeffer, had homesteads southwest of Winifred and between Valentine and Roy. The Fails bought several parcels of land on the Musselshell east of Cat Creek over the years and eventually turned to ranching full-time, instead of following the boom and bust cycles of the oil fields.

After my parents’ marriage, they worked on the ranch. I grew up on the river and went to school at Cat Creek almost through fifth grade. From the last couple of months of fifth grade through high school, I attended Winnett schools. We still spent weekends and summers at the ranch.

Education & other skills?

I started college at Montana State, but transferred to Eastern Montana College where I earned a B. A. in art and German.

Current Job and duties & other job history?

My first summer job while going to college was working for Arleta and Pete Dobson where Reba and Charlie Ahlgren live now. That is where Ralph and I met.

Then, I worked at the courthouse in the summer and during winter and spring breaks. After graduation, I worked at the courthouse for a bit over a year.

After Ralph and I got married, I got more into photography. Eventually, we decided we needed to do our own darkroom work. I did most of it, since Ralph had his day job on the county road crew.

I started driving the practice van for football and volleyball in 2004. I was also a substitute bus driver until I got a route.

I retired from being a route driver at the end of last school year and am substituting this year.

Interests, favorite things (food, etc) and Hobbies?

Photography is way beyond a hobby. I enjoy shooting sports and hunting. I have done some woodworking and sewing. I’m trying to get a decent sewing machine up and running, as well as a more dedicated space, so I can do a little of that. I’m looking forward to getting out and doing some drawing and see where that leads me.

What do you like about our little community?

I like that it is small enough that pretty much everybody cares about everybody and looks out for each other. I’m excited about all the redevelopment and new things that are going on now to keep our community going. I think that may bring some new things to our area, as well as expanding on what we already have going in the ag community and tourism.

A huge thank you to you both for all your dedication & commitment to our community, always there to capture the moment at community and sporting events!

WINNETT SCHOOL NEWS

Superintendent's Corner

February is "I Love to Read Month!" (Also, there might be a few important basketball tournaments...) Reading and comprehension are such important skills for mastering almost all other disciplines, but especially for becoming independent, lifelong learners! For academic success, it's important to read different kinds of genres and materials. Graphic novels are great, but students also need chapter books with varied and complex sentences and ideas, and rich vocabulary. What about trying to put together a toy or piece of furniture from a set of directions? Or following a recipe? (Hint: always read the whole recipe one time through before you set out, or disasters may ensue...not that I would have any personal experience with that...) And, generally speaking, the best writers are avid readers. Reading and writing are two skills that are critical for communication, and we want our students to be savvy and informed critical thinkers, learners, and communicators.

What is one book that you've read recently? Or, what is one book that you read as a student that impacted you? Share those stories with your children - it makes a difference!

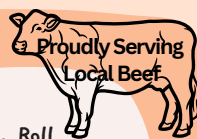

As always, we look forward to seeing you at the District Tournament in Lewistown February 15 - 18 and the Divisional Tournament in Great Falls February 22-25 to cheer on our Rams and Lady Rams!

KINDERGARTEN

Kindergarten: We hope 2023 is treating you all well! February is I Love to Read Month, and we are excited to participate in all the fun things that come with it. The kinders love to read and are proud of themselves when they can sound out longer words! In math, they are learning about 2D and 3D shapes, and they enjoy creating shapes on the geoboards. The kindergarteners also love their senior buddy time! If you had a senior buddy, do you remember who yours was?

1ST & 2ND

Hi there! This is Jade, bringing you the news from the first and second grade. We like the new Heggerty phonics that Mrs. Johnson does with us every morning this year. I think it has helped our spelling and reading. We are learning lots of new things in math. We've been working on time, money and measurement. We really like the card games in our centers. Our favorite is Golf. We have been playing Lacrosse in PE and it's pretty competitive! We made models with packing peanuts. We love making things with our hands and experimenting with new things!

3RD & 4TH

So much has happened since the last newsletter! In December, we put aside studying state capitals so we could practice for the Christmas Program. It was fun getting to sing songs we knew. Did you like the performance? In January we read and pulled apart 22 different picture books so we could pick the one we thought should win the 2023 Caldecott Award. On Jan 30th we will watch a video of the ALA awards presentation and see if our winner won the actual Caldecott award! We are also excited for Feb as it is always a crazy busy month. We will have I Love to Read Month activities, basketball tournaments to watch and the 4th graders will compete in our county Spelling Bee.

5TH & 6TH

Our new year is off to a roaring start! We have been broadening our math skills with fractions and algebraic expressions. It is a challenge but we are hoping to be x-perts. That is only a fraction of our day, we have also been working on opinion essays. In reading, we just started a new novel Holes by Louis Sachar. In my opinion, this is a great book that even adults would enjoy! During Social Studies, we are discussing the Revolutionary War and the events that led up to it. One of the projects will be to make our own newspaper. Then in Science, we are starting to explore our solar system. We will be making our own sundials to learn how shadows can help us tell time. However our time is coming to a close. Hope that your year is off to a great start too!

...difference would be that the three elected county commissioners would take over the load of the management of the county that are legally assigned to the County manager alone under the current form of government. They feel that the lengthy list of responsibilities has proven to be too much for any one person to handle effectively. They pointed out that it has always been difficult to find a qualified county manager candidate willing to work in Winnett at a salary the county can afford to offer.

The commissioners state that they feel the repetitious turnover of the County Manager position is costly to the county. Historically, it takes a couple years for a new manager to learn the various aspects of the job but then it overwhelms them, they burn out and resign. There is no legal flexibility allowing the commissioners to change the duties of the County Manager. By statute the county has to replace the manager, give them all the same load to learn and to handle and hope they will be able to succeed.

As shown in one of the handouts the statute that legally defines the duties of our County Manager are as follows: MCA 7-3-304. Duties of manager. The manager shall: (1) enforce laws, ordinances, and resolutions; (2) perform the duties required by law, ordinance, or resolution; (3) administer the affairs of the local government; (4) direct, supervise, and administer all departments, agencies, and offices of the local government unit except as otherwise provided by law or ordinance; (5) carry out policies established by the commission; (6) prepare the commission agenda; (7) recommend measures to the commission; (8) report to the commission on the affairs and financial condition of the local government; (9) execute bonds, notes, contracts, and written obligations of the commission, subject to the approval of the commission; (10) report to the commission as the commission may require; (11) attend commission meetings and may take part in the discussion but may not vote; (12) prepare and present the budget to the commission for its approval and execute the budget adopted by the commission; (13) appoint, suspend, and remove all employees of the local government except as otherwise provided by law or ordinance; (14) appoint members of temporary advisory committees established by the manager.

The commissioners spoke of concerns that the County Manager's defined duties are too far reaching and it is a concept that may have worked 80 years ago but is no longer appropriate. If the voters approve the change to a charter/commission form of government, it will take effect July 1, 2023. For the past couple years, the commissioners have been meeting twice a month because the agenda items were more than could be handled by only meeting once a month. The commissioners admit that they expect the change will likely take them a couple years to adjust to, to learn to directly cover all the various issues. That challenge will take more time and effort, but the commissioners feel it is the long term, better choice for the county. With three commissioners working through the various issues together with the staff, the county is at far less risk than leaving all these issues in the hands of one person, the county manager.

The attendees also reviewed the proposed Charter which would give Petroleum County self-governing powers which provide the broadest range of local power that are exercised by ordinance or resolution. The 1972 Montana Constitution provides that a local government with self-government powers may exercise any power not prohibited by the constitution, law, or charter (MCA 7-1-101). In 1996, Fergus County voted to adopt self-government powers, the commissioners were able to maintain a commission form of government through the adoption of a charter. Many Montana towns also operate under a Charter.

The commissioners plan to host another town hall meeting in February to give constituents another opportunity for a live discussion about the idea. The intention is to put this Change of Government issue on the ballot in June. If the change is approved the commissioners would assume their new role immediately. If the voters choose to have the county continue under the County Manager form of government, the commissioners will start the task of attempting to find, hire, and train another new county manager.

The commissioners encourage everyone to come to future meetings, go to the courthouse to get the handouts, and ask questions. They want to help everyone understand the choices and be informed. They will keep everyone informed of future Town Hall Meetings.

WINNETT COMMUNITY PLAY HITS THE STAGE

In the teeth of an 1898 storm, mysterious dinner invitations have been issued to an assortment of early-Montana characters. As they begin arriving at Walter J. Catscratch's mansion, the "colorful" guests discover there is more than a meal being served this night. Based loosely on the board game of CLUE, humor is blended with intrigue as a variety of local actors and actresses occupy the new Petroleum County Community Center stage in its first production, Clueless in Catscratch.

The PCCC Players will present this original play in two performances. The evening show will be at 7:00 on Friday, February 10. Preceding the play, Partners in Education is preparing a dinner at the Community Center. Reservations are available by contacting any PIE member. Proceeds will go toward the PCCC theater's enhancement. The second performance will be a matinee on Sunday, February 12 at 1:00. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. Tickets can be purchased at the door. The cast and Winnett community look forward to the long-anticipated debut of this play as well as the opportunity to perform on a stage, especially this one. Two "firsts" for the price of one.

Hello Fellow Winnett Times Newsletter Fans! We hope that you have enjoyed the last 19 editions of the W.T. newsletter, either in print or digitally, and that you feel it is a worthwhile project.

As a brief reminder of our history, the first edition came out in May of 2021. Several volunteer writers and helpers have been involved, but the layout and formatting has been done by Trish Smith to the tune of many hours, using her personal computer. The Winnett ACES non-profit group has been our fiscal sponsor and the Winnett school has provided newsletter content, along with a monthly dollar donation and the use of their bulk mailing permit. The Newsletter is mailed to over 250 postal patrons in the county along with about 90 outlying addresses. Remaining issues are left for pickup in local businesses, all provided by generous donations. This generosity has been amazing, but as printing costs continue to go up (costing approximately $530 for 350 issues in 2021, to $750 now), and with minimal volunteers, our "committee" has decided we need to do some restructuring. As always, there are pros and cons to all sides of the consideration; working through ACES allows a tax-deductible donation plus printing deductions; using the school bulk mailing permit allows for much lower mailing costs; the con to that is, it seems we are not allowed (or there are gray area questions anyway) to sell or solicit ads to help with our costs. We have talked about becoming our own entity and selling subscriptions and ads, but that increases the need for another volunteer to keep track of it all. We are also considering doing some fundraising/raffles at a future date to help subsidize the newsletter project.

Any feedback and suggestions are welcome!

Not wanting to completely abandon the printed version of the newsletter, we will apply for some grant funds to help with printing/postage costs and will plan to mail out a newsletter every other month starting in February 2023. The printed edition will continue in full color at this point with the option of going to a combination of color/black and white to help cut costs farther if needed. On the off months, Trish will continue with a scaled back digital version that will be individual updates & snippets posted on the Winnett Times Facebook page. If we are successful with grant requests for printing, we are proposing to pay layout editor, Trish Smith, a small stipend for some of her time. Because most grants do not fund salaries, this stipend would come from donated funds as long as they are available.

We are making every effort to keep the newsletter going without stressing the volunteers and donations that have been so generously given. Thank you for bearing with our "growing pains," thank you to all for your generosity in the past, and any future donations and writing help would be gratefully accepted. Donations can be sent to Winnett ACES, P.O. Box 118, Winnett MT 59087 with "Winnett Times Newsletter" in the memo line or online at www.winnettaces.org/donate.
