Winnett Times: Looking Back

By Laura Nowlin

Dear Readers,

The Winnett Times issued its first paper on September 2, 1914. For this Year End/Holiday edition of the Winnett Times, we thought harkening back to the early days of the paper could provide some entertainment. All following articles appeared in Winnett Times editions from 1921, although a few, including this first article, are 1921 reprints of 1914 articles.

Enjoy and Best Wishes for the Happiest of Holidays!

December 23, 1921

Our Greetings

In the Meaning of Christmas

Our Yuletide thoughts go out to the people of this community and our thanks are due the patrons and kind friends who have given us practical support or extended encouragement during the year. May this be the best Christmas you have ever spent, is our wish to all.

The Publishers

November 4, 1921

On September 2nd, 1914, the first issue of the Winnett Times was circulated in what was then a mere cow town which was rapidly evolving into an agricultural city. The homesteaders had commenced to invade the territory and with true homestead instinct file on every parcel of land in the surrounding country. A greater portion of this land is fertile and fit to be classed as the best of agricultural land but there are portions that were filed upon where even the cactus refused to bloom. To go back to September 2, 1914, the date of the first publication of the Winnett Times. Upon that date Winnett was given an advertising medium, small, 'tis true, but nevertheless a voice, like the voice from the wilderness. People read, they thought, they digested, they came and they remained to prosper.

Winnett's history practically dates from the inception of the Times and the Times is possibly the only absolutely...

What do you remember about kindergarten: The bathtub. We would all get to pick a place to read and we fought over the bathtub. One of the boys usually won. Mrs. Arthur made us take turns.

What is your favorite Winnett School lunch?

One dish supper. I love it. Hamburger, green beans, potatoes, and the sauce, I'm pretty sure it's cream of mushroom and tomato sauce.

What's your best memory of your time at Winnett School?

Maybe the time that Mr. Jolma told me I'm the only person he's ever coached that got six fouls in a basketball game. That was junior high.

Are you an angry basketball player? It wasn't my fault. The refs were unfair. Two girls were on my arms and I tried to pivot and I ended up elbowing one of them, so I got a foul. And I spiked the ball while I was walking away.

What will you do next year?

I got accepted to MCC and I'm going into finance and the entrepreneurship program.

What do you hope to accomplish still this year?

Enjoy the rest of high school before I have to go to college and get serious.

Advice:

Don't take school for granted.

Walker Doman

What do you remember about kindergarten?

Nap time.

What is your favorite Winnett School lunch?

Cheeseburger mac

What's your best memory of your time at Winnett School?

Being an All-State basketball player

What will you miss most?

Taking time off work

What will you do next year?

Probably go to college.

What do you hope to accomplish still this year?

Bring home the state title.

Advice:

Don't procrastinate. It's not worth it.

The Day I Shot the Buck I Had Been Watching For 2 Years – by Danner Hanson (8th Grade)

I woke up, brushed my teeth, got my camo on and got my release and bow. I walked out the door ready to shoot a deer. It was the opener for deer season with a bow on September 4. All summer I had been watching him grow morning and night. This year I knew he was gonna be something. Two years prior I had found 2 years of his sheds. September 4 that morning I got to where I saw him bed. I liked this deer because of his deep forks and chocolate-colored horns and the little cheater he had on the left side. The buck was a special deer that was a deep grey color and had a really big body and I had a lot of history with the deer.

Finally in relief I got to the big oaks where the big buck usually beds. Finally, it was shooting light and I scanned for the big buck Boom!!! There he was out in the middle of the field silhouetted by the rising sun.

He was standing broadside and he put his front left leg forward which had presented me with a shot I knew I had to shoot. I pulled my range finder out of my pocket and put the red crosshairs on him. The range finder said he was 57 yards. So, I pulled back my Diamond Edge 320 bow back with a tug, put my 60-yard pin on the buck's spine and let an arrow fly. I watched my arrow fly through the air with my lime green lumenok nok and my orange and white fletchings. When my arrow hit, I knew I hit him back farther back than I wanted. Soon as the deer started running, I knew he was going the wrong way. He was running towards Jim's property. When the buck jumped the fence, I got a sick feeling in my stomach.

I was worried about Jim saying no. Jim is a 69-year-old man that does not like hunting so that is why I was worried about him saying no and he usually doesn't let people on his property. If Jim said no, I would feel bad and very unsportsmanlike. So, I pulled my phone out of my pocket and dialed Jim's number. When I dialed his number all I thought in my head was he was gonna say no. My phone rang twice then I heard Jim say 'hello'. I said Hey Jim this is John I shot a buck and he jumped onto your property. I was wondering if I could go get him. 'Jim said you can only get the deer if you do anything else you will be in big trouble'. So, I said okay. I jumped the fence barely missing my pants, walked over to the deer and grabbed him by the horn and pulled him to the fence. When I got to the fence I had to jump back over and then pull the buck underneath the fence. When I finally got him to the other side, I set the deer up for pictures. But when I sat him up, I realized how lucky I was to get to do this and get to shoot an animal like this especially with a bow. At the end I got him like I was hoping to do.

My 2021 Fall Rodeo Season – by Kaitlyn Carter (Junior)

This year I decided to compete in the fall High School Rodeo. I only ran in Barrels and Poles, but I hope to be doing breakaway and team roping for the season this spring. This was a big-time commitment. I rode my mares every night to keep them in shape and I had rodeos every weekend. Most of my rodeos were over 200 miles away, so oftentimes we had to leave the afternoon before the rodeo. It was quite different from the team sports that I am used to. I was a part of the Lewistown rodeo team, but we did not necessarily have practices or work together on much. Everyone that I met in this sport was very kind and supportive. I was successful enough to make it into the high top ten for poles several times, which means I get to compete at State in June. I am sad the season is over, but I am also very excited to compete in the spring season in March. There was a lot of work involved, however it was definitely worth it. I had a lot of fun and was able to do something that I hope to continue in the future.

Superintendent's Message:

As you will see from our calendar, there are many activities and events on the calendar this month. There are so many opportunities to support and encourage our students as they pursue academic, musical, and athletic goals - in short, life goals. And, we are so proud of our students and our community! One of the things that we have been talking about around here is taking responsibility for our thoughts, actions, attitudes, and words towards others, and how those things create our successes and failures, palaces or prisons. Failures and mistakes are nothing to be ashamed of because this is, in fact, the exact process of learning. Most of us could give examples of times we learned more from mistakes than anything else. We want to encourage our students to take positive social, academic, and athletic risks - and support them all the way.

While we continue to support our students this school year, the motto is "Be loud, be proud, be positive" - and celebrate the process of learning. Go Rams!

We're looking forward to seeing you in our school!

~Lindsey Wilkerson

Winnett High School Student Council

Recently, the Winnett High School Student Council has been doing a number of activities. Two weeks ago, the council planned and functioned the 2021 Halloween Carnival; next, they will be planning the high school Christmas party. For this, the Decoration Committee purchased a new Christmas tree and tree skirt. This will hopefully brighten the spirits from our previously worn-out decorations. In an attempt to energize the school's enthusiasm for our girls, the council also decided to pay for the 2021 Divisional Volleyball Tournament tickets for any student who went on the pep bus. For a more long-term plan, the Big Project Committee is planning on upgrading the sound board in the gym just in time for basketball season. The Winnett High School Student Council is very excited to continue working through the school year and do what they can to improve the school in any way.

SPORTSMANSHIP – SHOW 8C PRIDE

COACHES

You are the brightest beacon for good or bad sportsmanship. Be a good role model!

PARTICIPANTS

You are the reason everyone is here. Compete with class!

OFFICIALS

With your enforcement of the rules in a fair and consistent manner, the contest maintains its integrity.

SPECTATORS

Use your voice to represent yourself, your team, your school and your community in a positive way!

ADMINISTRATORS

You are the standard by which sportsmanship excellence is measured. Consistency is key!

Proudly and positively support the student/athletes, officials and coaches.

Respect to participants, officials, guests, your school, their school, and yourself.

Integrity by treating others as you wish to be treated.

Dedication through understanding that PRIDE takes time; but it's worth it in the end.

Encouragement by promoting good sportsmanship just as much as you discourage bad sportsmanship.

This is how we show
PRIDE!

Acceptable Behavior

Applaud during introduction of players, coaches and officials

Accept all decisions of the officials

Shake hands with other student-athletes and coaches after the contest, regardless of the outcome

Treat the contest as a game, not a war

Search out opposing players to recognize them for outstanding performance or coaching

Applaud the performance of all participants after the contest

Show concern for injured players, regardless of team affiliation

Encourage surrounding people to display only sportsmanlike conduct

Unacceptable Behavior

Yelling or chanting at opponents (no newspapers/turning their backs during introductions)

Making derogatory yells, chants, songs or gestures

Booing or heckling an official's decision

Criticizing officials in any way; displaying temper with an official's call

Refusing to shake hands or to recognize a good performance

Blaming loss on game officials, coaches or players

Taunting or name-calling to distract an opponent

Using profanity or displaying anger that draws attention away from the contest

Show your 8C Pride! Sportsmanship matters.

Elementary News

Kindergarten - by Bradley Rowton

Hi, this is Bradley Rowton with the kindergarten news. This month has been fun because we've been reading with our senior buddies and taking AR quizzes. My buddy and I have read Fox on a Box and also Clifford the Big Red Dog. I really like going to P.E. with Mr. Grant. Right now we are playing basketball. My favorite thing to do for choosing time is play with the marble run. We did a science experiment this month and made slime! The ingredients were glue, water, baking soda, and contact lens solution. I added color to make mine bluish-green! This week we are going to start building birdhouses with Mr. Tholt. We are busy kindergartners!

Ed McIntosh from Q2 News visited the elementary kids last month to teach them about all things weather!

First and Second Grade

- by Hadlee Arntson

Hi, my name is Hadlee Arntson and I am writing the 1st and 2nd grade class news. We are planning to do an activity called The Escape Room soon. I think it is going to be really fun! In our math class, we are learning to add four numbers to find the sum in second grade. The first grade is working on subtraction and fact families. In PE, we are doing matball and kickball. It is fun! In art, we are learning how to control our drawing. For Veteran's Day, we are doing some directed drawing and writing. Happy Thanksgiving! Gobble! Gobble!

Third and Fourth Grade

How is November already done and gone? We have no idea where the time is going. We finished our science weather unit with a visit from Meteorologist Ed McIntosh from Q2 news. It was so cool to get to meet him in person. In math, the 3rd graders have mastered multiplication and the 4th graders have mastered long division. In reading, we are excited because we have been doing a novel study on James and the Giant Peach. We have learned many new words, enjoyed the adventures the peach took the characters on and we will watch the movie! Once we watch the movie, we will write a comparison essay of the book and movie. Have you ever read or watched James and the Giant Peach? If so, which did you like better?

Fifth and Sixth Grade - by Jack Nowlin

I wish we had hour-long recesses, but we don't. Virgil and I are doing ratios in math and so are Wil, Gracie, and Payton. Virgil and I's test is the 11th. The 5th graders are working on decimals. In social studies, we are learning about ancient Egypt. We made mummified apples to help us learn about mummification. We are about to start reading the Egypt Game. We just finished I am Malala. It was good. In science, we are learning about classifying animals. We learned how scientists tell if something is a vegetable or a fruit. Everyone except Virgil likes recess the most (Virgil likes art the most). In P.E, we are doing archery. We just finished basketball. In art, we have the whole week to do whatever we feel like doing. We just finished our peace posters after finishing and having to restart because we had the wrong size of paper. The lunches have been awesome. In writing we made personal narratives to read to the first and second graders. It is time for recess, so THE END.

authentic record of the progress of the city and the doings of its people. Winnett's history is not ancient. Ten years will carry you back beyond the memory of nearly the entire population. However, it is a history brim full of achievement, flowing over with progress with never a let up in its onward march toward its goal, the metropolis of central Montana.

November 4, 1921

Like the mighty oak from the little acorn grows so did the city of Winnett grow. Way back in August 1883, W.J. Winnett built the first building on the present site, his old home, a log cabin. In 1910 Mr. Winnett welcomed neighbors with the establishing of a post office in his ranch buildings and the advent of the famous Log Cabin saloon, now deceased, due to the Volstead act. From this meager beginning the city grew steadily to a present population of 2,000 with numerous business houses and large residence districts. This humble beginning gave birth to what is now blooming into the metropolis of central Montana. A city of opportunities known throughout the entire Northwest as the Wonder City. A city with great oil fields adjacent and agricultural opportunities unsurpassed in length and breadth of the land.

Winnett Considering 3 Miles of Concrete Walks

The City Attorney, acting under instructions from the City Council has drawn contracts to let three miles of cement walk in the business and resident districts of Winnett. It has not been determined yet as to whether the business portion will have ten or twelve foot walk although it is practically concluded that a six foot walk will be sufficient for the resident portion. Before summer is over with the good people of Winnett will have the walks they have long desired.

Walter J. Winnett ranch house.

The matter of walks have been delayed until the demand for three miles when it is expected the whole can be let to one contractor assuring a reasonable price and a guaranteed walk that will be a credit to the city of Winnett for years to come.

Road Improvement To Be Made Soon

County Commissioner Moulton was here the latter part of last week looking after road work and particularly to get things lined up for the road to be constructed across the west end of the Flatwillow Irrigation project lands. This is a road that has long been needed and when this is completed roads to Roundup and Billings will be very good this portion having been the worst spot along the way. Decision of the commissioners to give us some road work is cheering news.

Re-record Your Brands

Those who have not already had their brands re-recorded should do so before January 1st. After that date someone else may get the brand of some present owner with the result that it would be illegal for the former owner to continue to use it and making it necessary for him to get another brand. Brands are rerecorded by the Register of Brands, Helena, Montana. Have your brand recorded now.

Flatwillow Celebration Big Success

Many Winnett People Journey To Flatwillow To Celebrate Independence Day With The People of That Community.

The Flatwillow folks celebrated the Fourth of July in real style at their little town to the south of us. The program of the day consisted of sports, entertainment at the Lepper Memorial Hall and a big picnic dinner. Many autoed down from Winnett to attend the celebration and partake of the hospitality of the Flatwillow people.

In the evening the floor was cleared for a dance which continued until the wee small hours of the morning. All present had a very delightful time.

Mass Meeting Big Success

Dan McKay Addresses Meet Lays Down Plans for Future

Dan McKay, Petroleum county's official organizer, addressed a mass meeting of the citizens of Winnett and surrounding country at the Lodge Hall Monday evening.

Mr. McKay outlined the work that was necessary to complete the signing of petitions preparatory to presenting them to the august body of county commissioners of Fergus County. Volunteers were called for to furnish autoes for the windup campaign and a very generous response was received. If the weather holds good it is expected that the matter of securing signers on the petitions will be complete in two weeks and there is more than a bare possibility that the county commissioners will be presented the petitions as a Christmas present.

Many stories were told by those present of the intrigue and dishonest dealing of the west end politicians and all warned to be on the look-out for last minute propaqaanda characteristic of the county seat gang.

To say the least the meeting was a very enthusiastic one and all present assured the county division committee and Mr. McKay that they were with them to the last ditch, were pleased with the conduction of the campaign and felt positive that the county was bound to go over.

Consensus of opinion is to the effect that Petroleum County will be in operation by April 1922.

In the future there will be a county division meeting in the Lodge Hall every Monday evening at which time the progress of the previous week will be reported and plans outlined for the week to come. Citizens interested in the division of the county and have grown weary of bearing the highest taxation of any county in Montana will attend these meetings without any urging.
